USE OF FUNDS IS ADMITTED

Institution at Miamisburg is Ordered Closed

$108,000 SHORTAGE CLAIMED

Prisoner Held to Grand Jury Under $50,000 Bond

MIAMISBURG, Ohio — (Associated Press) — The Miamisburg Banking Co. was ordered closed today by H. E. Scott, superintendent of state banks. Scott charges misappropriation of funds by President John J. Schwartz, of Dayton, totaling more than $108,000. According to officials of the bank the defalcation will total approximately $108,000. Schwartz was arrested and, according to police, admitted speculation in securities with bank funds which he covered up with fictitious notes. Schwartz was arraigned before Mayor Munica and held to the grand jury in the sum of $50,000. The bank was capitalized at $25,000 and had a surplus of $5,000 and deposits of $234,000 according to the last statement of the bank.

INDIANA BANK CLOSED

KENTLAND, Ind. — (Associated Press) — The discount and deposit state bank of this city of which Governor McCray was president until shortly before his financial difficulties became public, was closed today. Judge William Darroch, who succeeded the governor as president said a reorganization was contemplated.

TAKEN TO DAYTON JAIL

DAYTON — (United Press) — Playing the stock market with funds taken from the Miamisburg Bank, led to the downfall of John J. Schwartz, the president of the Miamisburg Banking Company, according to his own confession.

Schwartz was formally placed under arrest at Miamisburg this morning and later brought to the Dayton jail. The bank was closed by the state bank examiners, who worked all night checking up the records at the bank.

Schwartz first told his family of his defalcation and then late yesterday he informed other officers of the bank who in turn called for state examiners.

Schwartz lost a total of $108,000 of the bank's funds and $3,000 of his own money, according to his statement.

He had been president of the bank for the last 12 years and it is claimed that there had been no actual examination of the bank's affairs for five years, the directors making affidavits that everything was straight.

The bank was capitalized at $25,000. When the crash came the First National Bank of Miamisburg offered to take over the business if the directors of the Miamisburg Bank would guarantee the deposits. This was not done. Resumption of business by the bank is problematical.

Schwartz resides in Dayton and is middle-aged. His defalcations covered a period of five years.

RETURN TO CELL OF PRISONER DEMANDED

CLEVELAND — Cleveland Association of Justice today urged Attorney General Crabbe to start legal proceedings to return Joseph Whyllie, slayer of a Cleveland patrolman, to his cell in Columbus penitentiary.

Whyllie has been serving as gardener at the governor's mansion in Columbus. He was given the job last June by Governor Donahay.

The association made the request in a letter which asked Crabbe to take the necessary legal action to compel the officials to release Whyllie into custody and imprisonment in the penitentiary.

SAMUEL LONG IS GRANTED A DIVORCE BY JUDGE

Samuel H. Long, 46, refinery worker, was granted a divorce from Mrs. Cora Long, on grounds of desertion in common pleas court Saturday.

The couple was married in Lima in 1901, and for a long period of years lived in S. Union-st. In 1913 the defendant left the plaintiff and refused to return.

There are eight children, four of whom are in custody of the children's home. A property settlement between the two was approved by the court.

FORD STATEMENT RESENTED

Manufacturer's Assertions Called Reckless by Weeks

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Declaring Henry Ford's statement attacking him in connection with the sale of the Gorgas steam power plant of the Muscle Shoals project was "filled with reckless assertions," Secretary Weeks, in a formal reply published today reviewed at length the administration's course in dealing with the Detroit manufacturer's offer for the project.

Weeks issued his statement after twice discussing the matter with President Coolidge, on the last occasion taking the prepared statement with him to the White House.

While beyond his own formal reply Secretary Weeks refused to comment on Ford's statement, there was every indication of a feeling of keen resentment at the Detroit manufacturer's charges that political influences had operated to prevent his obtaining Muscle Shoals.

COOLIDGE BACKS DRY LAWS

Stands Squarely for Enforcement Haynes Declares

HARDING POLICY ADOPTED

Prohibition Chief Speaks at Washington Conference

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Assurance that the Coolidge administration, like that of the late President Harding, stands squarely for prohibition enforcement was given by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in an address today at the opening session of the "Citizenship Conference" on enforcement, called by the Federal Council of Churches.

Described as in effect a reforming of the ranks of dry leaders to combat the enemies of prohibition, enforcement the conference was attended by enforcement advocates from all parts of the country, including state officials and many prominent in church and civic life. Adoption of a practical program for awakening "the moral force of the nation" to the need of law observance was set forth as the purpose of the three day meeting.

"This administration is four squares for effective enforcement," Commissioner Haynes declared in his address to the conference. "We all know how valiantly President Harding supported and sponsored it. No less wholehearted is President Coolidge's position on law enforcement. Attorney General Daugherty's position is also well known. The report of the attorney general recently made to President Coolidge, covering the activities of the department of justice, shows that department is in dead earnest in the prosecution of the prohibition laws."

Commissioner Haynes called urgently upon friends of prohibition to awake to the "insidious propaganda" which, he charged, was being directed against the dry law.

Declaring the states should aid more in enforcement work, especially as to minor infractions of the law, Commissioner Haynes cited that there were only 1,522 prohibition agents available for the entire country while there are over 200,000 policemen, marshals, sheriffs and deputies.

"The charge of wholesale violations is unfounded," the prohibition commissioner declared.

Delivering the address of welcome, Bishop William F. McDowell of Washington, declared the friends of prohibition "have not the slightest intention of yielding now the victory won in the long struggle." Law enforcement as involved in the prohibition question will be the dominant issue of the next presidential election, Bishop McDowell declared, and candidates must declare frankly how they stand on that issue.

"Shall the saloon," he asked, "come back into our homes through the front door? No; ten thousand times no. Then in the name of decency let it not come through the cellar door or the back door."

Other speakers on today's program included Wayne E. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League; Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Associate Justice Florence Allen of the supreme court of Ohio. Rev. Stephen S. Wise, of New York, and Raymond Robins, of Chicago, will address a mass meeting session tonight.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

DEAR MISS SMART: I am a girl 17 years old. I would like to go to Florida with some people for the winter and they want let me. Would you run off or stay here?

How late should a girl my age stay out at night? I have some girl friends my father thinks they are not decent; how can I teach him different?

How old should a girl be to go with the boys? Is bobbed hair still in style?

TAY at home where you belong. If the people of whom you speak had wanted you to go to Florida with them, I feel sure they would have asked you. Get that thought out of your mind and enjoy yourself here this winter, with work or school or friends.

Ten o'clock is not too early for a girl of your age to be at home. I have never heard that the place you speak of is not a desirable place to work in.

Perhaps your father has heard things regarding your friends that he does not approve of. Try and tell him that they are nice girls and that you enjoy being with them. Perhaps he will allow you to invite them to your home for him to meet and know.

Until girls are the age you are, I don't think they should be going out with young boys. And then, only as a friend and to attend some school party or such.

Yes.

DEAR MISS SMART: Will you please tell me how to prepare salted peanuts? LUCILLE.

If you buy peanuts for salting, select those which have not been roasted. If the small Spanish peanuts are used, the skins need not be removed, but if the larger peanuts are used, it is better to remove the skins.

Have ready one half pound of the raw peanuts, put one half cup of olive oil or one half cup of lard and clarified butter mixed, into a small sauce pan. When hot, put in about one-fourth of the nuts and try until delicately browned, stirring all the time. Remove and be careful to pour up as little oil as possible. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle with salt. Almonds, pecans and other nuts may be salted by the same process.

DEAR MISS SMART: I am a girl 12 years old, engaged to a fellow who is 12. My parents are not willing for us to get married until I am older. Do you think it would be all right for us to go to some other state to be married? I'm still in school but not enjoying my work and it isn't doing me very much good because I'm always wishing I was out and wanting to marry the man I am engaged to. He wants to elope, too. What would you advise?

I'm afraid you would very much regret your step if you were to stop school now and go to another state and be married. Stay in school and wait several years. If your love won't endure your test of waiting, it perhaps would not prove very lasting if you were to marry now.

Tell your fiancé that you have decided the best for both of you to forego marriage for a while, and that you are going to finish your high school education.

NEEDS OF CITY DISCUSSED BY CLUB

MRS. Howard Webb opened her home, 216 S. Cole-st., to the members of the Needlecraft club on Saturday afternoon, for their regular fortnightly meeting.

Up to this time, the meetings of this club have been strictly social affairs but beginning this year programs will be given and matters of the day discussed.

Mrs. Frank McClash is the chairman of the program committee for the year. The Needs of Lima was the topic of the program Saturday afternoon and the discussion by the members led by Mrs. A. N. Wisely.

An impromptu musical program was given.

Mrs. Webb served tea at five o'clock, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. B. English.

Miss Georgia Swickard, W. Elm-st., left Saturday morning for Columbus, where she attended the Ohio State-Colgate football game. She will return on Sunday.

Members of the Cloverleaf club entertained their husbands at a "steak roast" at McBeth's park, Thursday evening. After a delightful time at the park, the members of the party were invited to the W. C. Rummell home on Lakewood-av, for an evening of cards and music.

Plans were made for a masquerade Halloween party to be given within a few weeks.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday with Mrs. Richard Jones, W. Elm-st.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Thomas entertained informally at dinner Friday evening at their home, 1028 Bellefontaine-av. Covers were laid for Mrs. Minerva Scott and Mr. and Mrs. William Baker of Pasadena, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker leave soon for their home after visiting for some time with friends in the city.

MISS Bessie Jones, 207 E. Vine-st., and Friend Young, Anne, O., were united in marriage Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Grace M. E. parsonage, the home of the officiating minister, Rev. D. N. Kelly. The double ring ceremony was used. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Young will be at home to their friends at 219 N. Jameson-av.

Covers were laid for twelve guests, all members of the Good Will club, at a luncheon given at the Elks home on Thursday. The table was attractive in its decorations of yellow, the club color. Roses were given the women as favors. Following the luncheon, the club members enjoyed the afternoon in the lounge of the club.

Plans were made for a birthday party to be held soon at the home of Mrs. S. S. Coon, S. West-st. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. F. P. Brown, Mrs. George Daniels and Mrs. E. H. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maginnis, and daughter, Miss Geraldine, Brice-av., are in Chicago for a several day's stay.

SUSPECT SOUGHT

Many States Searched for Slayer of New York Woman

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — A systematic search covering several states and parts of Canada was launched last night by the police in an effort to run down the man who yesterday morning brutally strangled to death Estelle Phillips, department store saleswoman, after an apparently maniacal assault.

Miss Phillips' body was found by a girl friend early yesterday in her furnished room, with a towel knotted about her neck and her body clad only in an undergarment, showing signs of an attack and struggle.

The police are searching for a man who occupied a room adjoining that of Miss Phillips' and who was found to have disappeared with his belongings shortly after the murder was discovered.

OTTAWA SOCIETY

A union meeting of the clubs of Ottawa which are studying literature and kindred subjects has been planned for November 26. More than 200 club women, affiliated with the Ladies' Centennial Book club, the Research club, the Study club, the Altru club and the Profit and Pleasure club will attend. The meeting is one eagerly anticipated by club women. A musical program will feature.

The Five Hundred club will resume meetings next week, at which time the initial gathering will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Ferrall. More than a score of women meet regularly for whittling away several hours at play.

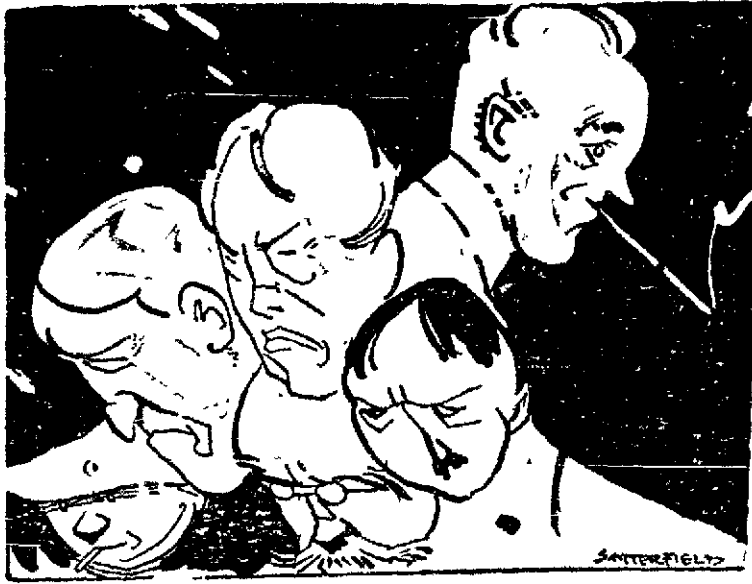

Members of the Ladies' auxiliary to the Knights of St. John will meet at their hall, Friday night, for a business session.

THE OTHERS

OCCASIONALLY you meet a strange personality—and try to fathom him or her. When you succeed, you discover that the strange personality is pretty much like the rest of us after the mask is removed.

Differences in people are largely on the surface. In nine-tenths of our ways, we're all alike. Tho often it takes individual trouble or a common calamity to tear the masks aside and literally bare us down to bedrock.

A decided contrast in human personalities is presented by Artist Satterfield in the accompanying pen-picture. No two look alike. Yet basically they're the same, just as gold is gold even when tarnished or plated.

Men occasionally forget that other people are also human, with the same basic emotions as themselves. This misunderstanding of our neighbors—of strangers in the crowd—causes much of the troubles of life. Especially wars.

THE GREATEST PHILOSOPHER

THE Chicago youth, who was shot by his mother to keep him from a life of crime, is now working hard in a real estate office.

This is the conclusion of a story that probably interested you quite a bit at the time. Mothers have an instinct that prompts their actions, even where the actions sometimes wander from the beaten path.

After all, mother is the greatest philosopher and psychologist.

SAVING THE PUBLIC

ELIZABETH BRUCE, a business woman, was dissatisfied with the lunches offered her by Boston restaurants. On the theory that if you want a thing done satisfactorily, you have to do it yourself, she started her own restaurant to feed herself and other business women.

That was 10 years ago. Now she feeds 4000 girls daily. A Boston paper estimates her profits at $60,000 a year.

Success seems to be waiting in so many different and unexpected places, it's a wonder so few people find it. The trick is to find a public want, then satisfy it.

SUNLIGHT AND SLEEP

BACK from a visit to England, where he found "continuous daylight during the summer months," a Boston lawyer named Anderson comments:

"I saw men working in their gardens at 2 o'clock in the morning, the same as we go out here a little while after dinner. I myself could hardly sleep at all, but I didn't seem to need it."

Anderson's theory is that the long hours of sunlight give people the energy and recuperation usually received from sleep. You've noticed how difficult it is to sleep in daytime. Perpetual daylight might produce a sleepless race. The force known as human life has some mysterious connection with the sun.

OUR ARTERIES OLD AT 40

FORTY is the age when strenuous sport becomes dangerous for a man, according to Dr. Cecil Webb-Johnson, distinguished London doctor.

He claims that a man is as old as his arteries, and that after 40 even golf is apt to exert too great a strain on the heart.

In other words, man physically is on the downward grade after 40, and the age is nearer 30 in more cases than any of us realize.

A tip to young men in their twenties, who are wasting their time.

The saddest words of tongue or typewriter—"Been out late so now must fight her."

Who always puts poor Boy in the Taken class. Belowstairs to a titillating bit of coke, hovering 'twixt flame and ashes. Breakfasted on a poor grapefruit and muffins. On the avenue, fell in with Benjamin Motter, the barrister and financier. Still in the get 'im class of males. Everybody despises selfishness, albeit it is no crime to pick out where you get the most cats for your money. At the office, John Boose, the rector, came. And when he whisked away, being nothing to do, out to a money to find it closed. Coz Christo Colum landed his barque off Cuba Isle. That was a great day for the Republicans, who have been collecting salaries ever since.

Lunched at the Shack, Mme. Gwendolyn this day presiding. And she served baked ham and apple sauce, very toothsome. With a lemon pie for the sweets. In the early afternoon, stroked anon to meet Roy Hamilton, the barrister, and Austin Potter.

Up the Main-st, and waved to a society madame in a newly acquired coat, very chic, method. To the shoppe, thru the great sea of faces and legs. Watching the baseball board. The faces, not the legs. They being used only for supports.

showers in the morn, and sleeping porches in the night, go out of season. Much like buying a country place. Always do it in a zero temperature. Away afoot to see Mr. and Mrs. Wally King. Who pulled away, being nothing to do, out to a money to find it closed. Coz Christo Colum landed his barque off Cuba Isle. That was a great day for the Republicans, who have been collecting salaries ever since.

To think I was scooped * on Francis Durbin's having a baby. When a man goes that far for the future of his noble country. He deserves brave mention in the public prints. Which reminds me Dee is out of school now and should be paying her own soda fountain bill at the Market-st. I wish I had a new nat, with plenty of shellac. So it would stand up and show an ideal.

Dined on famille at the Mikado. Bowing in fine friendliness to Frank Kommink, the banker. And Elwood Lindemith, the Willy's Knight distributor. In the evening, to the shoppe, and sat. After laboring awhile, home to read Cosmo. So late to bed.

BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

Israel in the Midst of the Nations

Text of Today's Bible Talk by Mr. Bryan
(Josh. 1:1-4; Isa 2:2-4; 19: 23-25; Ezek. 5:5)

Now after the death of Moses the servant of the Lord it came to pass, that the Lord spake unto Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' minister saying:

Moses my servant is dead now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Israel.

Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses.

From the wilderness, and from the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

In that days shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.

In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land:

Whom the Lord of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

Thus saith the Lord God, This is Jerusalem; I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.

(By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN)

Today we deal with a subject which is so little discussed that it may to some even seem antiquated. And yet it is not difficult to connect it in a very intimate way with that which is vital today.

It links the remote past with the living present and traces a purpose through centuries of history. The text is taken from Joshua, Isaiah and Ezekiel.

In Joshua we have the commission issued to the successor of Moses. The great emancipator and lawgiver, who brought the Children of Israel out of Egypt, led them through the wilderness, and within the sight of the Promised Land, is dead, and Joshua, son of Nun, chief minister unto Moses, is called to take up the unfinished work.

The promise made to Abraham and repeated to Moses is renewed to Joshua. From the Lebanon and the river Euphrates, even unto the great sea—the Mediterranean—the land is to be Israel's.

In Isaiah we find Jerusalem described as the center of the nation's activities. "All nations shall flow unto it," and many people shall say, "Come ye, and let us go unto the mountain of the Lord," for, "Out of Zion shall go forth law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem."

A FAMOUS PROPHECY That followed a prophecy for the fulfillment of which the world is today anxiously waiting—the time when this God, whom the Hebrews worshipped, "shall judge between the nations and will decide concerning many peoples." (revised version), with the blessed result that they "shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

And now we come to the thought of the lesson. Israel shall be on the highway between the two great nations of that day, Egypt and Assyria. The nation is to take her place as the third nation, and be a blessing in the midst of the earth.

The same thought is repeated in Ezekiel and the providential location of Jerusalem is still more strongly emphasized: "I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her."

George Adam Smith, in his comments on the Holy Land, points out that Jesus spent His boyhood at Nazareth, which was on the line of the caravans between Egypt and Persia—the greatest thoroughfare of ancient times. But here, many centuries before Christ, we find a strategic position, Palestine, picked out for a chosen people and a reason given for its selection.

A CHOSEN LAND It was not a matter of chance that Abraham journeyed from Ur of the Chaldees to the Land of Promise. He was to be the founder of a race and that race was to be the custodian of a religion. In order to favorable race, and that people the carry out His purpose, God selected for the Jews the best location possible. They did not select it themselves; He selected it for them.

Thru His prophets He explained why the selection was made. We do not have to obtain this information by inference or interpretation, of acts; we have a clear, unequivocal statement of what is to be done and why it is to be done.

The land into which they were led was a goodly land, "flowing with milk and honey." It was varied in character, extending from the mountains to the desert on one side and to the sea on the other. It abounded in fertile soil, in hills and valleys, and contained one of the greatest depressions in the earth's surface, the Dead Sea, into which flowed the River Jordan. It was capable of supporting in comfort a large population.

It was inhabited by warlike nations, such as the Canaanites, who were twelve commissioners sent to spy out the land, thought it impossible for the Israelites to overcome them and take possession. But Caleb and Joshua had faith in the power of Israel's God; they believed that of His strength the people would be victorious.

A STRIKING FACT The strategic position of this promised Land presents a striking fact: it was not only on the highway between the two nations that it was a neighbor to the two nations destined to overshadow both Egypt and Assyria. It was near to Greece and to Rome and at the gateway to Europe whose civilization was to succeed and surpass all former civilizations.

The Mediterranean Sea, a great highway, gave access to all the countries that bordered on the Atlantic. At that time, before the coming of the railroads, water routes were relatively more important than now. When one looks at the Roman empire on the map, it seems to be divided by the Mediterranean but it was really united by that great sea. Surely Jerusalem was set in the midst of the nations and countries round about her.

Where else upon the globe could Jehovah have set up His standard and built His Zion so appropriately and with such influence of present and increasing influence? Here for seventeen hundred years the Feast of the Passover was kept in remembrance of the deliverance of the Children of Israel out of Egypt.

The Pivot of Bible History But the purpose that Jehovah had in mind in leading the Israelites to this particular spot was still more clearly understood when the promised Messiah appeared.

Christ had been described as the pivot upon which Bible history turns. The prophet foretold His coming; the Children of Israel looked forward to His appearing; His mission was symbolized in many ways. In the fullness of time He came just when the world was ready for Him.

Greek civilization, built upon physical perfection, artistic beauty, and the extended intellectual development of a few, had failed. It had much to commend it, but it lacked the spiritual element that characterized the Jewish religion.

Rome was trying the experiment of building an empire on force, law and order reigned wherever the eagles of the empire were carried; but here, too, the spiritual element was lacking. Luxury sapped the strength of her rulers and they became cruel monsters. The time was ripe for the New Dispensation—"The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us"—in Jerusalem, "in the midst of the nations."

Then, in a much larger sense than ever before, the law went forth from Zion. As never before Jerusalem was exalted and became a controlling influence in the life of all nations—"and all nations shall flow unto it."

To the Uttermost Corners Christ's ministry began under the Roman government and extended to the uttermost corners of the earth. Paul, boasting that he was a Roman citizen, carried the Gospel into Greece. His sermons at Athens and at Corinth laid the foundation for the Greek church. Timothy, whose father was a Greek, helped to spread the Gospel among his father's people.

The disciples and their spiritual descendants carried Christianity through the Roman empire until it gradually spread all over Europe. Persecution, instead of destroying Christianity, was instrumental in its spread—"the blood of the martyrs was the seed of the Church."

When Christ was crucified He was in mockery called as "The King of the Jews." They, called this appellation above Him on the cross to draw a contrast between the One who, seemingly helpless, was being crucified amid scoffs and jeers, and yet, the spiritual kingdom which He set up supplanted the imperial government by whose authority He was put to death.

A HOPEFUL SIGN I feel that I am doing my readers a favor when I call their attention to "The Life of Christ." The author is an Italian of eminence, a writer and poet who was once an atheist. Converted to Christianity, he has become a powerful interpreter of the life of Christ.

His portrayal of the trial and crucifixion is the most vivid word picture that has been painted of the final hours in the life of the Savior. He builds upon the language of the Gospels, but he so emphasizes the Bible accounts by elaboration and illustration that they make an indelible impression upon the reader.

His book is one of the greatest of recent contribution to religious literature. "The unprecident demand for it, both in this country, and in Europe, is proof of the awakened interest in the fundamentals of the Christian religion."

It is a most helpful sign when such a book arouses such widespread interest throughout the Christian world.

THE WORLD'S RELIGIOUS CENTER It may be that the materialism which has lowered the spiritual tone of life and diverted attention to pleasures and possessions, with accompanying brutality and indifference to higher things, has run its course. The tyranny of that love of money against which Christ so strongly protested has become apparent in the excesses which it has produced and men are turning to Christ as the only remedy for social evils as well as for the salvation of their own souls.

As the light that shines from Calvary is sending its rays in every direction and to every land, the thought of the world is turning toward Jerusalem where the religious tragedy was enacted—the religious center established in Palestine, the land made holy when it was selected as the Home of God's chosen people; established in the midst of the nations and rendered glorious by the birth, the life, the death and the resurrection of the Saviour.

BY BERTON BRADLEY

I do not wave my country's flag On every opportunity, Nor care to pull a lot of brag About my home community; But as I travel to and fro And wander anywhere I can, I'm not at all ashamed to show That I am an American.

I know there's plenty we can learn From other countries various, Stern lessons which we shouldn't spurn— Our faults are multifarious; We are not perfect, not a bit, And yet my information is That we are much more close to it Than any other nation is.

I do not shriek this thought aloud But none the less I'm feeling it, My patriotic soul is proud, In spite of my concealing it. I do not shout my land's acclaim, But modestly I tune a verse In which I sing my country's fame As best in all the Universe! (Copyright, 1923)

Yanks Show Game Hearts In Spite Of Breaks Going Against Them--Won't Quit

(BY HENRY L. PARKER)

NEW YORK — (United Press) — With the Giants leading the chase again by one step the world's series will be resumed this afternoon at the Polo Grounds when the Yanks will have to do or be done in the fourth game of the champions' fight.

Down two games to one by virtue of a thrilling 1 to 0 victory of the Giants yesterday, the American League champions have a lot more than their backs to the wall. Their hands are almost tied and if the blind falls over the eyes today the Giant shooting squad will have to do nothing but pull the trigger. Gloomy slate colored clouds hung in the sky this morning. There was almost a mist in the air, the atmosphere was wet with impending rain. Inference of the weather jinx, which was threatened for several days seemed imminent.

On the game heart with which the American League champions have shown while the "breaks" were beating them in the face all thru the series, kept a sour look in keeping with the weather of the Yanks as they got ready for the game Saturday which goes a long way to decide the series. The Yanks know that they must even the count with the world's champions today or their job is almost hopeless. One more victory by the Giants will impose upon the Yanks the task of winning three straight and such things are not done often to McGraw's team.

Wally Pipp, the fine first baseman of the Yanks and one of the most important cogs in the machine, will be out of the game and he may not appear again in the series. Pipp wrenched his lame ankle in hooking for second base.

yesterday and Miller Huggins said this morning that Pipp would not be able to play.

The loss of Pipp, while it may arouse the team to desperation will reduce the effectiveness of the machine as a substitute outfielder will have to take Ruth's place when the Babe moves into first base.

Superb pitching by Arthur Nehf, astounding fielding by Heinie Groh, who is the greatest money player in the game and the home run of the great Casey Stengel set the Yankees back in the third contest.

NEHF IN FORM

Nehf was right, and when he is in form there is no better pitcher. He had to be perfect to win from Sam Jones the Yankee squire. With two pieces of the most sensational fielding Groh twice saved Nehf when it seemed he was about to fall under a rally and the timely clout of old Casey Stengel furnished the punch that won the game.

Bob Meusel, the Yankee left fielder, was bitterly denounced by New York writers this morning and openly charged with insubordination for refusing to obey the order of Miller Huggins to hunt in the third inning after Dugan had doubled and Ruth had been passed with none out. Meusel instead of bunting, laid out the ball and fell into the double play.

Huggins refused to comment on the play after the game. He would not say what orders he had given to Meusel and he made the rather ambiguous statement — "It was the proper play."

The Yanks had three good chances to score and two were slipped by double plays while the third was cut off by Heinie Groh's almost impossible stop and a headlong dive to third base in time for a force out.

Considering that all the experts regard yesterday's game as the turning point in the series, the Yankee players were unusually optimistic yesterday and they feel absolutely confident that they will win today. Babe Ruth, they point out, is a murderer in the Polo Grounds and if the Giants will pitch to him they claim he will break up the game.

BITTER FEELING EXISTS

Bitter feeling is springing up between the players on the two clubs. Babe Ruth, under his signature, charged the Giants today with "dirty playing." He said that Snyder grabbed Ward's bat and prevented him from swinging at the third called strike in the ninth inning of Friday's game and that

FOLLOWING THE GRIDDERS

CHICAGO — The first championship classes of the season are on Saturday's Western Conference schedule, involving Iowa and Purdue at Iowa City and Indiana and Northwestern at Indianapolis. Vanderbilt of Nashville, Tenn., will oppose Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Iowa, which tied for the conference championship last year has shown great offensive strength in the two games played this season, while Purdue ran up a big score on Wilmington. Ohio College last Saturday. Iowa meets Illinois next Saturday.

Michigan and Vanderbilt last year played a scoreless tie. The Michigan Aggies will be Wisconsin's last opponent before the Badgers enter the conference field against Indiana next week. Chicago had little trouble defeating the Aggies and Saturday's game is expected to show the comparative strength of Wisconsin and Chicago which meet later in the conference campaign.

Illinois hopes to revenge itself on Butler for a defeat last year. Butler presented a lighter but veteran team, nine of last year's men being in the lineup. Minnesota faces the Haskell Indians, minus the services of Captain Martineau, out because of injuries. Chicago has an open date.

NEW YORK — Now that the season is well started, muscles hardened and formation working smoothly, the fifty-odd college football teams which go into action Saturday are expected to show more definitely of what material they are made. The stiffest battle in the east probably will be between Army and Notre Dame in Brooklyn.

Harvard, Yale and Princeton went into play later than most of the colleges, will meet with no serious work.

Harvard will meet Middlebury, which last week tied Union, Yale will come up against the University of Georgia and Princeton will meet Georgetown. Of these three the stiffest battle is expected to be between Yale and University of Georgia. The Georgians scored a 20 to 6 victory last week over Oglethorpe.

Among the other good games scheduled are Wesleyan against Columbia; Syracuse against the University of Alabama; Annapolis against West Virginia Wesleyan; Dartmouth against Boston University; Providence against Holycross; Trinity against Lowell Tech., and Tufts against Bates.

In New York state Cornell will meet Williams; St. Lawrence will play Hobart and Union will meet Amherst. In Pennsylvania Penn will meet Swarthmore; Lafayette will meet Franklin and Marshall. Pittsburg will play West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson will come up against Brown.

WOOSTER-MIAMI

WOOSTER, Ohio. — (Special to Lima News) — The hardest week's work of the season faces the Wooster College gridiron men this week in preparation for the game with Miami in Severance Stadium this Saturday. This game will be the real test of the Wooster eleven. The Miami team is coming here with one of the strongest elevens which ever represented the school. This is the home coming game and a record crowd is expected.

The varsity came through the Otterbein victory with very few injuries. Most of the men were out for practice Monday evening. Those who still showed any effects of the game were allowed to rest. The first practice of the week consisted of work on the field and then a

IMPORTANT GAMES TODAY

COLUMBUS — Ohio football teams were to be participants in fifteen contests today, with the Ohio state-college game here as the leading attraction. Practically every team in the state will be in action in the contests which are scheduled as follows:

Ohio State vs. Colgate at Columbus.
Oberlin vs. Case at Cleveland.
Ohio University vs. St. Xavier at Cincinnati.
Miami vs. Wooster at Wooster.
Washington vs. Kenyon at Gambier.
Ohio Wesleyan vs. Ohio Northern at Delaware.
Akron vs. Western Reserve at Akron.
Toledo University vs. Akron at Akron.
St. Union vs. Ashland at Ashland.
Dayton University vs. Transylvania at Dayton.
Bachman vs. Marietta at Marietta.
Baldwin Wallace vs. Kent Normal at Kent.

My Own Starts In $10,000 Stake

LAUREL, Md. — With Admiral Cary T. Grayson's "My Own" entered in the $10,000 Maryland Handicap for three year olds at a mile and a quarter, the feature of today's racing card here, the biggest crowd of the Maryland racing season is expected. My Own went thru an impressive workout yesterday and will be a heavy favorite. Cherry Pie, a Green-tan stable entry, seems to stand next in the favor of ace track followers.

Ten horses are entered, including besides My Own and Cherry Pie, Spot Cash and Gaffly, H. P. Whitney entries; Dunlin and Golden Rule, entered by J. S. Cosden; Commander J. K. L. Ross' New Hampshire and Ten Minutes, Autumn Bells and Chet Curry.

South Hi Coach Calls His Team Off Field, Claiming Referee's Ruling Wrong

Ten minutes before the final whistle was scheduled to be blown at Defiance yesterday Coach Burdette, of South Hi, led his team off the field and the contest was forfeited to Defiance Hi, 1-0.

It was this way: with the score 6-0 in South's favor in the last quarter, Bob Barrington, South captain, called time out. Immediately his teammates crowded around him and a few seconds later the Defiance center passed the ball back to one of his backfield men, who in turn, tossed the oval to one of his teammates. The man ran, unmolested to South's goal line and scored an apparent touchdown. According to all the rules of football the play was illegal, as South had called time out. Immediately the play had been started the referee waved his hands apart, signifying the play was no good. The umpire, however, claimed the play was legal and the referee changed his decision, calling it a touchdown for Defiance. Burdette came out upon the field and endeavored to discuss the play with the referee but the latter failed to change his second decision. Thereupon Burdette led his team off the field and the game was forfeited to Defiance, 1-0.

South made their touchdown in the first quarter, when with splendid all-around playing they swept up the field with a series of line plunges, passes, and a general mixture of football. When within ten yards of the Defiance goal, Throckmorton, South quarter, sent Thomas thru tackle with the ball. Thomas, by means of his wriggling tactics, scored a six-pointer. No further scoring was done until the last quarter when the questionable play was pulled.

After scoring in the first period South's offense fell down miserably, and the team appeared staid. Thomas seemed to be the only man who played his regular game. The interference on end runs was poor, the South backs being thrown time and again for losses. Altho outweighed, the Defiance team put up a fair game of football, but had the Southerners been in their usual form the outcome of the game would not have been in doubt. From appearances the Tigers were staid. They injected little of their usual pep into the game.

A week from today Akron South will appear at South field. Unless the Lima team improves in practice next week, a beating is in line for them. Burdette intends to shift the lineup and will try to have a strong team to face the Akron crew.

South's lineup yesterday was Barrington lb, Knight lt, Shope lb, Smith c, Meeks rg, Fry rt, Early re, Throckmorton qb, Brown lb, Thomas rb, and Wren fb. Other players who got into the game were Waggoner, Nevergill, Rowers, Kattis and Kimmell.

BOWLING

The mixed double tournament started at the Lima alleys Friday night with some very fine bowling. Mrs. Wardy secured a 194 count and Mr. Terry 243. This is an every Friday night contest and all ladies who want to bowl are cordially invited. They should leave their names at the desk.

Hutchison Is New Golf Champ

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Jock Hutchison, the veteran Chicago golfer, is the new western open champion. Playing in his best form, the Scot broke away from a select field over the Colonial Country club course yesterday, and with a 281, finished six strokes ahead of Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Joe Kirkwood and Bobby Cruikshank, who tied for runner-up honors.

REFEREE'S CARD SHOWS MCTIGUE BEAT STRIBLING

JERSEY CITY—Harry Erle, third man in the ring when Young Stribling and Mike McTigue, light heavyweights, had their tumultuous fight at Columbus, Ga., claims McTigue actually deserved the decision. Erle called it a draw.

Erle is displaying a card which he used to indicate the result of the rounds of the fight. It shows that Stribling won three rounds, McTigue four, and the others were even. A "K" appears after McTigue's name in the ninth round, indicating a knockdown to his credit.

"Stribling is a clown fighter and McTigue would have knocked him out if the fight had gone two more rounds," says Erle.

ONLY SAVERS CAN SAVE NATION

Forbes Sees Thrifty Families
Boosting U. S. Strength

JANKS CHANGING TACTICS

Get Account from Every Three Persons in Country

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK — (Special) — A nation can be saved only by its savers.

That nation is lost whose people
do not save money.
Happily, the United States, judged by this test, is distinctly on the upgrade. In the last ten years the total deposits in savings banks and other savings accounts has increased $22,000,000,000 and now stands at the extraordinary sum of $39,000,000,000.

There are more savings accounts
than there are families in America.
There is one for nearly every three persons in the country.

The total savings equal $1,560 for every family.

No other country can match these figures.

Even so, I believe the next ten years will bring still more impressive results.

Why?

If for no other reason, because our savings banks are now going about their mission far more intelligently, energetically, and enterprisingly than ever before.

In the old days most savings banks were rather sleepy institutions. They attended very carefully and capable to taking in deposits, computing the interest once every six months, and counting out withdrawals.

But they waited for business to come to them. They did little or nothing to create new business. They did not believe in the modern principle, that the way to find business is to go out after it. They were solid, they were conservative, they were dependable. But they didn't hustle.

All this is being changed. The heads of many of our savings banks are today as enterprising, as aggressive, as dynamic as the heads of industrial or mercantile organizations. They are tapping the sources of deposits. They are carrying on valuable educational work.
They are "selling" thrift to the people. They are inculcating into millions of minds the importance of accumulating an ample nest egg.

The more enterprising savings banks now start with the school children. Some even start with the new arrivals in the world, by notifying parents that an initial deposit of $1 will be made for the child if its parents will open a savings account for it.

School savings indeed are becoming quite an important item. One banker told me the other day that his institution, including its branches had almost $2,000,000 in deposits from school children. The total for the country now runs into many millions.

The Brooklyn Savings bank in one recent week, thanks to painstaking efforts, opened 375 new accounts for workers in industries.

This new plan of going after wage earners in industrial and other establishments doubtless will be made in every sizable business concern that have a modest sum either deducted from the worker's weekly pay or handed over or pay day by the workers to go into a savings bank account.

Savers used to have to seek out savings banks. Today savings banks are seeking out savers.

The progressive savings bank executives of New York State who now are holding their big annual convention at the Westchester Bil-
more succeeded in having a law passed permitting savings banks to open branches, and another law enabling them to rent safety deposit boxes. Both are moves in the right direction.

Why should workers and others who live in large cities not have branches of their favorite savings bank brought into their midst? Why should it be necessary to walk or ride miles in order to make a deposit? Woolworth and other pioneers learned the value of planting stores at convenient points in different cities, well knowing that in order to get people to buy it must be made easy for them to reach a store.

To get people to save it is equally important to make it easy for them to reach a savings bank.

Frankly, I had no particular high regard for the old time type of savings bank executive. I always looked upon him as a sleepy sort of fellow, who simply sat down and waited for customers to come to him.

But I take off my hat to the progressive savings bank executive of today, he is rendering a patriotic fundamentally important service. No country can prosper without capital.

All money capital consists of saved
money.

Think of the part of our savings banks play in providing homes. The New York State alone the savings banks have provided $1,735,000,000 for mortgages. This equals $7 per cent of their total deposits, whereas two years ago only $5 per cent of deposits were invested in mortgages.

We are still a young country. Our national development will call for billions of new capital each year for many years to come. Other less favored lands will also look to us for capital, just as we resorted to other countries for capital before we ourselves became so rich.

America's rate of progress will depend largely upon her rate of progress in saving money.

Let us, therefore, doff our hats
to the new school of savings bank managers, who, by their initiative and enterprise and enterprising, are playing an incalculably valuable part in furthering the well-being of many millions of families and the prosperity of the whole country not only today but for years to come.

WALTON BREAKS WITH ADVISORS

Oklahoma Governor Ousts Two
State Officials

OKLAHOMA CITY — (Associated Press) — Facing the crisis of his political career, Governor J. C. Walton has cast aside two of his foremost lieutenants in the administration of Oklahoma affairs.

With a legislative impeachment court already investigating his official conduct, the governor last night ordered the removal from office of Aldrich Blake, the executive counselor, and Dr. E. T. Bynum, state bank commissioner, both of whom have been his chief advisers.

The ousted officials went immediately before the house committee inquiring into impeachment charges against the governor and while the nature of their testimony was not made public, their appearance before the body was accepted as indication that their break with Governor Walton was absolute.

Dr. Bynum has administered his office unsatisfactorily, the governor charged. There was no explanation given for Blake's removal.

Blake and Dr. Bynum promised statements soon.

rived here today to attend the taking of depositions in an effort to disprove testimony given in divorce proceedings filed against her in New

Mrs. Stokes declared the deposi-

Miss Katherine Kramer and Mrs.
Alice S. Mills, of Kansas City, that they saw her with Wallace in 1901.

BACK AGED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Texas. — "My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested
that I try Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health
since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief." — Mrs. C. B. ROBIN-SON, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. "Lima is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another.
These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial."
Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill
that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

GERMAN DISTASTO IN YOUTH SPREADS

Clashes Break Out in Many Sec-

RESULT OF FOOD SHORTAGE

Women Lead Attacks on Stores
of Vegetables

BERLIN — (United Press) —
With the prices of food soaring faster than the state and municipal officials can raise the unemployment bonuses, rioting which yesterday and today had caused more than 13
deaths and injuries to forty was reported spreading through Germany
today. Riots at Elberfeld, Duesseldorf, Oberhausen and Wiesbaden in addition to the one at Solingen, were reported in dispatches just received.

Demonstrators rioted before the city hall at Hoechst — demanding that the municipal officials raise the relief bonus to ten milliards. One was wounded and several injured when police retaliated to the volley of stones and fired into the crowd.
French soldiers today took control of some parts of the occupied areas
while German security police dispersed mobs in others.

WOMEN JOIN PLUNDERERS

The steadily decreasing supply of food supplies and the swelling army of unemployed appeared today to forebadow still more dangerous
outbreaks unless relief can be found.
Papers are filled with details of storms of plundering and minor outbreaks that show the serious temper
of crowds everywhere.

In many places housewives have joined crowds of men in plundering and even led in the attacks on small stores of vegetables. When the police attempted to stem these outbursts the women attacked them with stones and in several places police reserves had to be called out to make savage charges.

In an electrical atmosphere the reichstag meets at one o'clock today when Chancellor Stresemann will attempt to drive thru his dictatorship bill. The vote at which every effort will be made to rally all possible supporters of the government will be taken at 2 o'clock.

Failing the passage of this empowering bill, it was said Stresemann
may carry out his threat to dissolve the reichstag and postpone the elections as long as possible to give himself dictatorial powers long enough to carry thru his reforms.

TRAGIC STORY UNFOLDED IN SUICIDE OF JERSEY MAYOR

IRVINGTON, N. J. — (Associated

who erred in his youth, paid the penalty and then set out to regain the respect he had lost, only to succeed and have his early folly once more brought to life, was unfolded yesterday when the prosecutor began an investigation into the motives that prompted the suicide on September 26, of Mayor Edward R. Folsom, of Irvington.

Mayor Folson's life reminded those who heard its history of Jean Valjean.

It was in Hammondsport, N. Y., that the story had its beginning. It was the age old tale of wealth and poverty and love. Folson's family was poor. The girl he loved was the daughter of the wealthiest man in the town and her father refused to accept the lowly youth as his son-in-law. The boy was desperate. He forged the wealthy man's name to several checks and later was caught red-handed robbing a bank.

FREED FROM PRISON

His sentence was ten years at hard labor in Auburn prison, but the late Theodore Roosevelt, then governor, pardoned him after three years had been served, in response to a petition of Hammondsport citizens, headed by the girl's father.

Folson and the girl were married
then, but they decided to move away and start life anew. They came to Irvington where Folson established a business, won his way into many friendships and prospered. He was elected mayor and his work in civil and church affairs was praised by all who knew him.

DARK CLOUD CAUSED

Then came the dark cloud that cast
a shadow over the man who had erred in his youth. Some one (his son says the prosecutor has their names) who knew his past confronted him with the facts and demanded blackmail.

At his death it was believed the mayor had little left of the fortune
he had built up thru hard work. It was said he had paid $28,000 in the past twelve months alone to keep the secret. The blackmail began about three years ago.

And on September 26, he died. At first it was believed he had died from an accidental overdose of a sedative, then it was learned he was a suicide. The investigation unfolded the facts of his life and his wife, who has been with him and known of all his trials since he was released from prison, declares she knows those who took his fortune for his secret.

JEALOUSY SEEN IN CHEMIST'S DEATH

Theory of Burglary Dropped in
New York Shooting

NEW YORK — (Associated Press)

The police have discarded the theory of burglary in the attack
Thursday evening on Mrs. Ida M.
Leslie and the subsequent shooting of Milton M. Mass, wealthy New York chemist, at Mrs. Leslie's home at Sound Beach, Conn. In its stead, they have substituted a plot to kill Mass.

A person in close touch with the investigation of the seizure of Mrs.
Leslie on the lawn of her home by three young men and the wounding twice of Mass when he ran to her assistance was quoted as saying the authorities were convinced that New York gunmen were hired by a jealous rival to kill the chemist. In support of this theory, it was pointed out that if robbery had been the motive, the jewels worn by Mrs.
Leslie, valued at $10,000 would have been stolen.

Seizure last night by the police of a package of letters from Mrs. Leslie's home, it was said, disclosed that a New York millionaire, nationally known, was a rival for Mrs.
Leslie's affections. The name of the man was withheld.

To the Housewife— Shop In The News First

Beware of the house to house solicitors selling dishes, rugs, hosiery, and other household necessities.

Most all the merchants have abandoned the Circular and Hand-bill and the house to house solicitation idea, and are spending their advertising appropriation where it will do the most good---in the columns of The LIMA NEWS.

Lima is being flooded with solicitors selling dishes, rugs, hosiery, furniture and some are selling without a license---be sure you are right before you buy. Call up the Board of Commerce, Better Business Bureau, whenever you are in doubt, and they will find out whether the solicitor is legitimate in his wares or statements.

Don't forget, any article you buy from the canvasser, you can buy for less from the MERCHANT, and in case it is not satisfactory---you can always return it---in buying it from a canvasser---means he's GONE and cannot make good.

The modern shoppers read the advertisements carefully and regularly.
They find that the advertisements save them steps, bother, trouble and time.

Shop in The NEWS and you will surely get BARGAINS at the right prices.

MARKET STEADY AT CLOSE

General List Stiffens After Period of Hesitation

LIBERTY BONDS	Yield

Third 4 1/2%	97.14
Fourth 4 1/2%	97.14

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Stock prices drifted rather aimlessly within narrow limits in today's dull half-hour session of the market. Although several issues established new low records for the year, the general list stiffened somewhat after an early period of hesitation. Strength of Pacific Oil and weakness of Chandler Motors which fell two points to a new 1923 low, were the outstanding changes in the industrial list. In the railroad group the strength of Delaware and Hudson was offset by the heaviness of Atchafalaya and Nickel Plate trading was on a reduced scale because of the absence of a number of traders. The closing was steady. Sales approximated 250,000 shares.

RECOGNITION OF
UNION ASKED

Rights of Workmen Said to be Imperiled

Difficulties between the Lima City Street Railway Co. and employees who have been on strike for a number of weeks were again put up to Congress today when John L. Cable for the union and a letter signed by the Lima Trades and Labor Council was transmitted to the congressman Saturday asking him to obtain recognition of the Lima Street Railway Co. and as a public servant to obtain recognition of the union.

The letter follows:
Hon. John L. Cable,
Lima, Ohio.
Dear Sir:—

This letter is addressed to you by the Lima Trades and Labor Council in the hope that it may bring about a better understanding of the trouble now confronting the people of Lima, the Lima Street Railway Co. and its former employees.

WATCHING HIS WORK
The labor organizations of Ohio have been watching your work against increased immigration with great interest, believing with you that increased immigration would tend to lower the standard of living in America. We also believe that any influence that tends to lower this standard is anti-American. Such an influence is at work in Lima today, one class is trying to deprive the other of its constitutional right to organize.

To accomplish this strike breakers were imported for the sole purpose of lowering the standard of living and freedom of a portion of Lima's citizens. There seems to be no other bone of contention between the Lima Street Railway Co. and its former employees than the right of the latter to maintain their organization, regardless of the fact that this right has been conceded to labor by the highest authorities of the United States.

Should this program of union smashing succeed, we tremble to think of the results. Organized labor stands a barrier between hedonism and our government, as was plainly shown at the last convention of the F. O. L.

Outside of the labor question in this contention the position of the patrons of the car lines should be considered. The people of Lima, by refusing to patronize the car lines during the trouble, have shown their attitude in this matter. Since an injunction forbidding free transfer buses from operating on the streets of Lima has been issued, many of our citizens are compelled to accept a service that is distasteful to them.

These conditions can do nothing else but breed ill feeling, against the Lima Street Railway Co. unless immediate action is taken to settle this controversy and give the patrons the quality of service they desire.

After considering the various phases of this controversy the Lima Trades and Labor Council decided to call upon you to use your influence as a stockholder of the Lima Street Railway Co. and as a public servant, to bring about a satisfactory settlement of this strike.

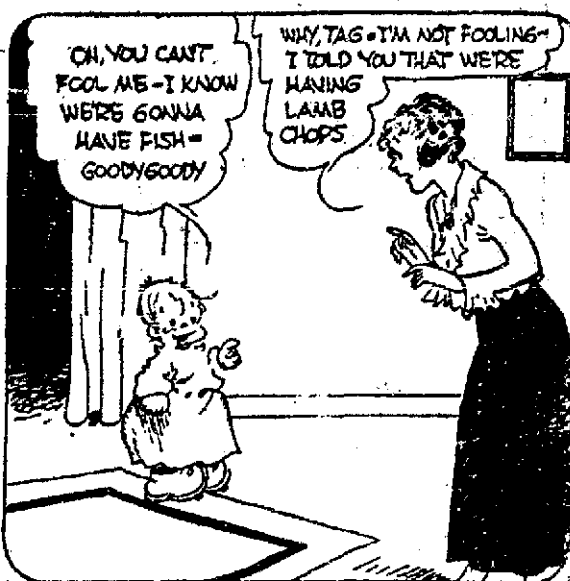

Sincerely Yours,
The Lima Trades and Labor Council
CHAS. W. WIESSNER, Pres.
A. L. WILKER, Sec'y.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES—IN THE OLDEN CASTLE

Chapter 11

Story by Hal Cochran

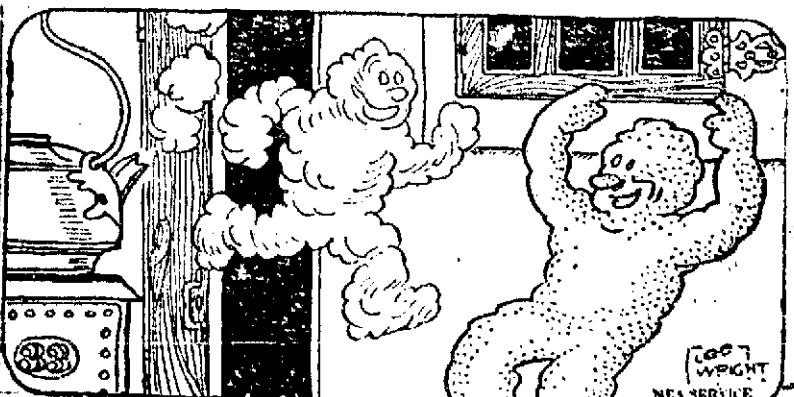

Drawings by Leo Wright

"Are you sure these won't hurt the cook if any of them hit him?" asked Jack. "Oh, no," replied Jingo. "They are too soft." And then Clatter Legs suggested that he do the throwing as his aim was best. And soon the metal man had stuck a point on each of the four corners of the cook's square hat.

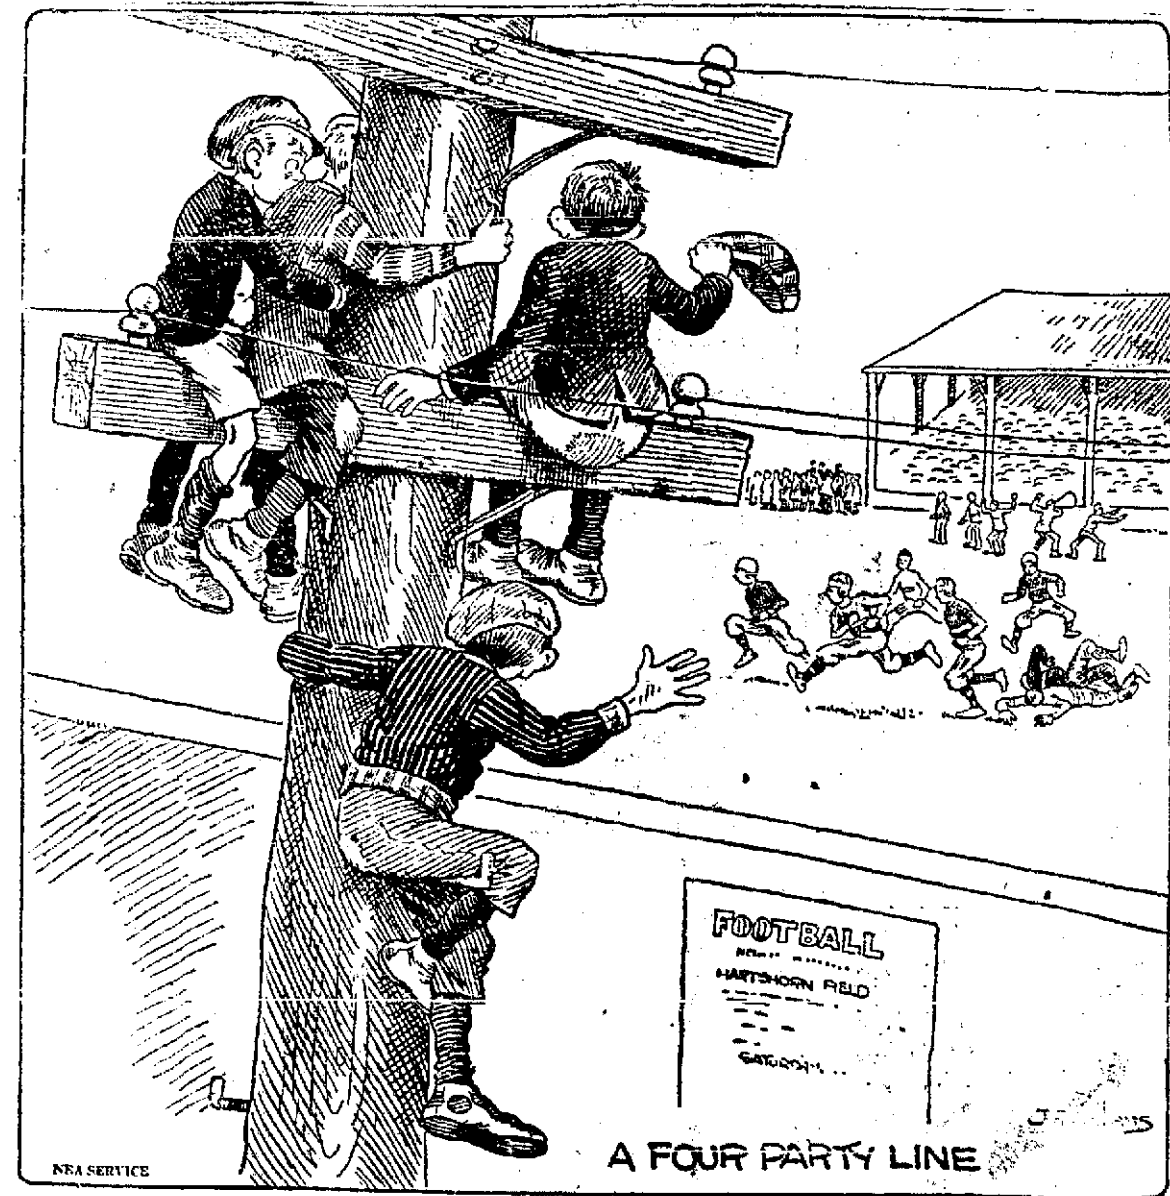

By this time the cook decided to make a break for better shelter, and he jumped up and ran out of sight across the courtyard. Jack and Jingo and Clatter Legs and the Gingerbread Man were still laughing when a rattling of the tea kettle top on the stove attracted them.

As the four turned to see what the matter was, the top toppled off and a funny white man hopped out and floated down toward the floor. "It's Mister Steam," shouted Gingerbread. "Yes," replied Steam, "and I'm here just long enough to shout, hello." (Continued).
